Eight Named to Who's Who

Awards Revealed to OCE Student Leaders

Eight students from Oregon College of Education were recently named to "Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges." This is an honor given only to juniors and seniors at four-year accredited colleges and universities.

OCE students who received the award for 1953-54 were Lucille Goyak, Mary Ann Hudson, Ray Meyers, Wanda Nelson, John Pizzuti, Bradley Rislove, Gale Taylor, and Fern Wallace. They were chosen by a committee composed of OCE faculty members.

Scholarship, leadership, participation in curricular activities, character, and possession of the qualities indicating a future usefulness to business and society, are the qualities which were judged for their selection.

A biographical sketch of each student chosen will appear in the publication "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," and it will list the college each attends.

The publication presents a new edition annually. There is no charge of any kind to the school or student for this recognition. It is the only nationwide recognition for college students that is absolutely free.

These students will be issued a certificate engraved with their name at some appropriate assembly, usually the award assembly in the spring.

OCE Hosts FTO for District Convention

by Joan Rorer

OCE played host at the annual Willamette Valley District FTO convention held in the faculty lounge January 14. Attending were students from Mt. Angel, Willamette, and OCE.

Welcoming the group and acting as mistress of ceremonies was Nancy Lou Clark, chairman of the district which includes the U. of O., OSC, Mt. Angel, Willamette, Linfield, and OCE.

Dick Harry, assisted at the piano by Ruby Taylor, led group singing. Official greetings were extended by Dr. Roben J. Maaske, OCE president. Andrea Bailey and Beverly Warren played a piano duet, "Two Guitars."

Miss Donaldson Speaks

Miss Mary Donaldson, supervisory teacher from Independence, was speaker of the evening, inspiring prospective teachers with "How Do We Grow Professionally?"

She upheld her point of view of "taking a job and growing into it" by such ideas as recognizing that the teacher's purpose is to help children, and keeping up spirit and enthusiasm.

The group then divided into discussion groups on "What Can FTA Do for You," and "How To Start High School FTA Clubs?"

A summary of the discussions followed. An informal social hour with refreshments ended the evening.

Parents To Be Guests of Students During Folks' Festival Week-end

Parents of OCE students are especially invited to visit this campus during Folks' Festival week-end, January 29 and 30. Serving as co-chairmen in the planning of the annual event are Gloria Riggs and Gale Taylor.

Theme for the week-end is "Familia Fiesta" and the main events for Friday night are the game with EOCE and a sports dance.

Registration will commence Saturday morning and continue until noon. Guided tours of the campus will be conducted and there will be a talent program in the Campbell hall auditorium.

Todd hall will be the scene of a luncheon, followed by meetings of the Mothers' club and the Dads' club. Other afternoon events include a tea and a style show in Maple hall and a smoker in the gymnasium.

Activities will draw to a close with the Saturday night game with EOCE, followed by a sports dance.

Life in India Told By Assembly Speaker

by Sherry Ripple

"Two and a half months in India can hardly be told completely in one short hour," explained Mrs. Gladys Lauther as she opened her assembly program concerning India on Thursday, January 14, in the Campbell hall auditorium.

Slides showing life in India from the poverty-stricken village to the palace of a Maharajha, were shown to the audience as Mrs. Lauther told of her exciting stay in the land of 360 million people.

She stated that India is approximately one-third the size of the United States and that over 85% of the people cannot read or write, a challenging situation for teachers or future teachers interested in work in foreign fields.

Mrs. Lauther received the opportunity to visit India through the Canadian Committee of World Service which sent a group of 100 people to visit this country. Mrs. Lauther is also secretary of the Pacific Northwest YWCA.

Notice to Graduates

All graduates who have not returned their credential papers to the placement office are requested to do so without further delay.

More Students Here Than Were Last Winter

According to Dr. Floyd Albin, acting registrar at OCE, there was a 37.5 per cent increase in new students over last year at this time at Oregon College of Education this term. He also indicated a slight drop in the number of veterans attending the college.

While registration figures are not yet complete, it appears that there will be an increase over this figure after course registration is completed for two Tuesday evening classes and one Saturday class.

Dr. Clark will offer a course entitled, "Statistical Methods in Education" on Saturday, and Miss Kane and Dr. Mulder will offer "Pre-Primary Education" and "Speech Correction" classes on Tuesday evenings.

Senator R. Neuberger Will Speak at Dinner

Richard L. Neuberger, state senator from the 13th district, has consented to speak for the fifth anniversary dinner of the OCE Wesley Foundation on February 11. Tickets will soon go on sale for the event. General chairman for the dinner is Rita Dodson. Assisting her will be Shirley McGinnis and other Wesley committee heads.

Dean Seavey Offers To Teach Shorthand

Anyone interested in learning some shorthand? Miss Joan Seavey, dean of women, has offered to teach a class of shorthand for no credit. Tuesday or Thursday evenings were suggested as the best time during the week for this course. Anyone interested in this class contact Miss Seavey as soon as possible.

Art Department Head Gives Radio Lessons

Mrs. Pearl Heath, associate professor of art and head of the OCE art department, was one of four Oregon teachers selected to present an art lesson over radio station KOAC, as part of a year-long series.

Each teacher is to be responsible for three programs, presented each Monday at 1:30. Mrs. Heath's three programs already broadcast were entitled "Let's Make a Puppet," "Let's Play with Clay," and "Let's Make a Puppet Stage."

Mrs. Heath has received several comments from various sections of the state, indicating that her programs were especially enjoyed.

Guidance Group Will Meet Here

by Shirley Phelps

The Willamette Guidance Association is holding a dinner meeting on the OCE campus on Thursday, January 28, at 6:30 p.m. in Todd hall. After the banquet, members and guests are invited to an informal discussion in the faculty lounge on "Postscripts to the High School Guidance Programs."

College freshmen from Willamette university, Oregon State college, and the Oregon College of Education will review the guidance programs in their high schools and will discuss the merits and deficiencies of the programs as they experienced them.

Make Reservations

Reservations must be made for the banquet before January 23. Mail the reservation requests to either Dean Arthur Glogau or to Dean Joan Seavey, Student Personnel Office, Oregon College of Education, Monmouth, Oregon. The price of the banquet is $1.75.

NEW STUDENTS—If you don't have a post office box in Campbell hall, the deans' office will be glad to give you one, as they are necessary.

EDITORIAL

WRITE A SONG OR CREED!

"Onward to victory, OCE." This might well be the first line of a new fight song, alma mater song, or creed for OCE, but it isn't! Why not? Simply because no one at OCE is making the attempt to bolster school spirit or anything else by pitching in and writing one.

The song-writing contest has been in progress now for several weeks. So far, it has been a dismal failure because only two songs have been entered. Everyone has just sat back and waited for someone else to write a song or creed. It would actually not be very hard to do.

The contest rules are very simple. Any music—original or otherwise, can be used for the songs as long as it is not being used already in a well-known Oregon school song. The creed to be used as a pledge of loyalty to the school must, of course, be original, but it does not even have to be set to music.

The prizes are not huge sums of money, but in this case the recognition is more important than the profit. For the best alma mater song and the best fight song there will be $5.00 given, and for the best creed $2.50 will be given. The judges are reserving the right, however, of withdrawing the prizes if none of the entries are worth considering. At the present time, it looks as if this may have to be done.

The judges, on the other hand, have also reserved the right to give duplicate prizes to the entries warranting them. Come on, students, let's get behind this project and push! Put your shoulder to the wheel! Write a song or creed for OCE and make others feel proud to be a part of this school. Make those entries so good that the judges will have to dig down and award those duplicate prizes. —M.R.W.

RAY MEYERS

Ray Meyers is a junior from Silverton. In high school he belonged to the basketball, football, and track teams.

At OCE he is a member of IVCF, the Letterman's club, and the Grove staff. Ray is photographer for the Grove staff. He has lettered in football at OCE.

Some of the jobs he has held on campus include campus painter, night watchman, and business assistant.

Ray is majoring in education and minoring in special education. He will graduate under the four-year program in 1955.

BRADLEY RISLOVE

Bradley Rislove is from Milwaukie. She was a junior at OCE last term, but did not return because of her plans to be married.

While attending OCE she was a member of Collecto Coeds, Phi Beta Sigma, d'OCE-do, FTA, and the Grove staff. Last term she fulfilled the position of assembly commissioner on the student council.

Last year she was selected to represent OCE in the Oregonian feature series "Beauty on the Campus." She was also assistant chairman on the Homecoming committee last year.

IMC and News Bureau Employ Eight Students

The instructional materials center and the news bureau, both directed by Mr. George Cochern, with Mrs. Don McKenzie as secretary, have a combined total of eight students employed as part-time helpers. These include Eldon Hickey, a freshman, who will work for the news bureau as a reporter, and freshmen Richard Haury and Alice Fryer, who will work as photo laboratory assistants.

Richard Harry will also be responsible for work for the IMC along with Bob Krebs, a freshman who will act as head projectionist. Glen Roby, Donald Julian, and Calvin Bryan, all upper classmen, are employed as projectionists.

Pizzuti, Photographer

John Pizzuti, who is handling news photography for the news bureau also will be responsible for technical repair for the IMC.

The instructional materials center is a collection and distribution point for instructional materials of all kinds including the latest in audio-visual equipment. Also located here is a modern recording studio, capable of taping material for radio broadcasting. A weekly radio show originates here.

Bureau Requests News

The news bureau, which is the official office for the dissemination of information to the public for the college, is always anxious to receive stories of activities, elections, etc. Such information may be brought to the news bureau, which is housed in the same office with the IMC, downstairs in the library, anytime during the day or by phoning extensions 29 or 30.

Rhythms Program for McClaren Continues

D'OCE-do club will sponsor another rhythms program for the boys at MacLaren school on Friday, January 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Woodburn.

This is the first of the two sessions planned for winter term, and transportation will be provided. If anyone is interested in participating in this program, contact Lucy Goyak immediately.

West House News

by Russell Curnutt

We've really been living it up these past two weeks, it hasn't been raining inside at night. Besides the lack of rain we have four new people to help us: Tom Silvey, Guy Noredinger, Akihiro Mitomi, and Russell Curnutt.

We held a house meeting and elected Chuck Keaton as our new V-P, it took seven ballots to do it. We also decided that we would keep our voices down after 7:30 at night.

Harry Pease started a nationwide traveling career with a trip to Kansas over the Christmas holidays. He attended a Wesley Foundation conference.

We give our thanks to Mrs. McBee, our housemother, for her friendly greeting supported by two very large pots of chili beans.

Arnold Arms News

by Robert Krebs

This week Arnold Arms held a house meeting to decide who was going to represent the house on the inter-dorm council, since the house is operating on the cooperative system which leaves it without house officers. Jim Anderson and Eldon Hickey were appointed to act as representatives.

Dale Long has organized a ping-pong tournament in which most of the house members are participating. The tournament is to determine a house champion. We can not give you the results this week since the tournament will not be over in time, but we will have them next week.

Around Todd's Halls

by Carolyn Jones

Hello again. This is your Todd hall reporter reporting the latest news around Todd.

Interviews To Be Made At Next FTA Meeting

What teaching interviews are and how they are conducted, will be the topic of discussion at the Future Teachers of America meeting January 21 at 8 p.m. in Ad. 212. Everyone is invited to come for an informative time.

M. C. Huff, assistant superintendent of Lincoln county public schools, will interview Nancy Lou Clark and Dr. Walter Snyder, superintendent of the Salem public schools, will interview Gale Taylor. Following this there will be a period to ask questions.

Yma Sumac To Be At OSC Tuesday

Yma Sumac and her unusual company of dancers, Andean drummers and musicians will be at the OSC Gill coliseum in Corvallis on Tuesday, January 19, at 8 p.m.

Busses from OCE will leave at 6:30 p.m. The bus tickets will cost 25 cents and may be obtained at the business office.

Yma Sumac is a princess among the Inca Indians and although others marvel at her fabulous five-octave voice, her greatest pride is her Indian blood. Yma sings centuries-old melodies of her people, which are arranged especially for her by her husband and accompanist, Moises Vivanco.

Incan Traditions

Yma Sumac

Although she has become Americanized in many ways, Yma Sumac is still as much a part of the ancient legends of the Incas as they are of her. Her exotic beauty, her faith in the Sun God, and her fabulous voice are all reminders of the Incan traditions which lie behind her.

Yuma Sumac has a voice that happens only once in a generation; her people call her "chosen handmaiden of the Sun God" and describe her singing as the "voice of the earthquake and the wind."

Clark Will Speak at Next Wesley Meeting

Dr. Francis E. Clark, chairman of the OCE department of education and psychology, will speak to the Wesley Foundation on the subject of "The Relation of Religion to Public Education" at their regular meeting, January 20, at 6:30 p.m. This will be the second in a series of meetings covering this topic that will continue throughout the term. Everyone is invited to attend these informative meetings.

After-Game Dances Lack Club Sponsors

Two after-game sport dances were held Friday and Saturday, January 15 and 16, at Maple hall. The dances were not club sponsored; arrangements were handled by Don Wickstrand, Wolf Knights president.

Wanda Nelson, social commissioner, has announced that any club or organization wishing to sponsor a future dance should contact her.

Collectos Sponsor Tea

The Collecto-Coeds held their invitational tea at the home of the club adviser, Mrs. Roben J. Maaske on Sunday, January 17, at 7:30 p.m.

by Jim Davis

The Oregon College Wolves jumped into the Oregon Collegiate Conference battle for the first time Friday night and soundly thrashed the southern member of the family, OTI, 74-59.

Paced by gum-chewing Frank Grove, the Livingston outfit put the screws to the much taller Techmen, got them befuddled, and then let them have everything but the proverbial kitchen sink.

Grove Bags 28 Rebounds

The six foot, one inch Grove, a giant around these parts, did a big share of making life miserable for the Owls by scoring 25 points and clearing off 28 rebounds. He hit 13 out of 14 free throws and you can't do much better than that and still stay conscious.

Techmen Take Early Lead

The Techmen from Klamath Falls started out as though they were going to rule the roost all evening, leading 12-11 at the end of the first period. But along about the middle of the second quarter the Wolves started needling the visitors all over the court and this upset the works. The Owls' lead which they had accumulated lasted about as long as an iceberg in Death Valley. Grove tied up the game with about five minutes left in the first half with a couple of those gift shots and then put them ahead with two more. The closest the Owls ever came to overtaking the Wolves again was in the third period with the score 36-35, Oregon College in the driver's seat.

At halftime, Oregon College led 34 to 29.

Livingston started Chamberlain, Grove, Frantz, Davis and Pinion and it was this starting five who carried most of the load. Only one reserve, Don McKenzie, was pulled off the bench and thrown into the conference tilt. These six lads did a remarkably good job.

Free throws missed: OTI 10, OC 10; Halftime: OC 34, OTI 29. Officials: Kolb and Wickart.

Frank "Buckshot" Grove is in anything but a serious mood in the above pose, but the six foot, one inch "demon of the boards" is quite capable when it comes time for action. "Buckshot's" 28 rebounds Friday night is thought to be a new league record in that category.

It took an awful lot of fight and determination Saturday evening, but after all was scored and tallied, our favorite Wolves had somewhat the better of a 65-50 score in their battle with the OTI Owls.

Frank Grove, Larry Chamberlain, and Bobby Frantz pumped with piston-like precision to give the OC crew a 21-19 first period lead and then gave way to a late second period OTI rally and a 33-35 halftime deficit.

Grove Puts Wolves Ahead

The second half started out nip-and-tuck and it was not until Grove dumped one from the field for a 42-40 lead that the Wolves finally took command for keeps. From then on in the Oregon College squad pulled steadily away.

"Bouncing Buckshot" Grove again topped the marksmen with 16 tallies and pulled off 24 rebounds. Chamberlain, in a great game, and steady Bob Frantz contributed 15 points each.

Roamer Girls Coming

Be sure to circle January 27 on your calendar and make a special note of the event of that evening, for the Roamer Girls, a colored female hoop aggregation will be here to do battle with Coach Livingston's Oregon College Wolves in an exhibition tussle.

Members of the Roamer Athletic Club, the girls handle such jobs as school teaching, recreational directing, and office work during the off season. But during the hoop campaign, they are one of the top women's basketball teams in the country, not having lost to a girls team in the past two years.

PEASE PORRIDGE

It looks as if the intramural problem is mostly solved as far as the OC junior varsity is concerned. As we got it, straight from the commish's mouth last Thursday, the JV squad has been cut to some nine or ten men who will comprise the outfit. Other boys who have been playing JV ball are now free to hook on with some intramural team if they so desire, but they must have done so by last week-end.

The junior varsity outfit, currently coached by Gene Owens, will participate in the intramural play by playing the team each week which would ordinarily draw a bye. However, their tussles will not count in the league standings.

The intramural boys have been getting some real sharp officiating this year which helps the league no end.

Wick's	2	0	1.000	171	75
West House	2	0	1.000	95	37
Ramblers	1	0	1.000	60	20
Vets' Village	1	1	.500	61	91
Independents	0	1	.000	31	41
Roberts	0	2	.000	63	93
Arnold Arms	0	2	.000	49	183

Rambling Wick's and a slow-moving West House crew swept into the intramural basketball league leadership last week by virtue of victories over Arnold Arms and Roberts, respectively. Vets' Village tipped an undermanned independent crew in the week's third tussle.

ARNOLD BAGS 42

Burly Bill Arnold pumped home 42 points on 19 field goals and four gift tosses as the Wick's crew romped over Arnold Arms by a 116 to 36 count. The full court pressing victors led at the first intermission 31-4, at half-time 57-13 and were on top 83-18 at the third rest stop. A.A. battled to the fatal end but failed to match the efforts of the Wick's outfit. Jim Dawson paced the losers with 13 tallies, while Elmer Summerfield potted 21 for the winners.

W-H EDGES ROBERTS

West House edged Roberts 28-24 in a slow-moving contest on Thursday evening. Roberts battled the W.H. crew down to the final wire despite the loss of Joe Roberts, captain, due to five personal fouls, near the close of the final chapter. Ray Cummings, Roberts' forward, was the game's high man with 11 tallies. Bill Hicks paced the winners with eight.

V-V WINS FIRST

Vets' Village bounced into the winners' column by dumping the Independents 41-31 in the week's opener. The Independents played their first game of the campaign with but four men and trailed at halftime 15-25. Art Glogau paced the Villagers with nine markers. Gerald Biggins hit 12 for the Independents.

This week's games will pit Independents against Roberts at 6:30 Wednesday evening and Arnold Arms vs. Ramblers at 8:00.

Pinion, Grove Close Behind

Bob Frantz Paces Scoring

Bobby Frantz was Coach Bob Livingston's top scorer during pre-conference play with a total of 153 points. The Wolfpack forward moved along through the early competition at a 15.3 points per game clip.

Team captain, Chuck Pinion, and the team's tallest, Frank Grove, were at Frantz's heels in the scoring department prior to the opening of the court wars with OTI. Pinion hit the hoop for 148 points for an average of 14.8 points per game. Grove scored 142 points and had a 14.2 average.

GROVE TOP BOARDMAN

The statisticians also came up with Grove as the top man on the boards for the Wolves with a total of 107 rebounds. He also did more ball hawking than any one of the rest of Livingston's crew, intercepting the ball 22 times.

Although the Wolves ran aground in nine out of the 10 court battles before opening against Oregon Collegiate Conference opponents, they were only 56 points behind the opposition in total scoring. The short but scrappy Oregon College quint poured in a total of 633 points while the opposition scored 689 for the 10 games.

The officials tooted their whistles 161 times against the Wolves for fouling. The 10 Oregon College opponents were called 172 times for violating court etiquette.

Five WRA Teams Start Intramural Basketball

Five WRA intramural basketball teams were set up Thursday night at the regular WRA meeting. The first game is to be played this Thursday, January 21, at 6:30 p.m., the beginning of a series which will end with an elimination tournament.

Each of the five girls teaching and officiating girls' basketball this term will coach the team of which she is a member. These girls will also serve as the officials.

The team coached by Mary Lou Hull chose "Keyhole Kids" as its name and elected Rosalie Harrold as captain. The "Ball Babies," coached by Frances Brostrom, elected Pat Holman and Kaye Le Francq as co-captains; the "Sharpies," coached by Mary Gordon, chose Nancy Hildreth; the "Six Select," coached by Shirley Moser, elected Lou Hobbitt; and coach Barbara Makinster's team, "Mac's Place," also chose her as captain.

The Ball Babies are scheduled to play the Sharpies this Thursday in the opening game.
